Buy an Irrigated Farm From The CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.
Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of forage, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements 50% interest no principal payment at end of first or second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from

THE BRITISH PREFERENCE

Did the Budget Weaken It?—Increased Revenue Necessary—Some Figures

Free traders and those who want to lower our tariff upon the recent increase of five per cent. in the duty levied on British goods entering Canada on the ground that such action is "particularly objectionable in the fact that, instead of favoring, it is placing extra barriers against Great Britain's trade with Canada."

The fact is carefully ignored that a measure which increases the general tariff by 1 1/2 per cent. and the British Preference by only five per cent. gives the British manufacturer an advantage of 2 1/2 per cent. greater than that which they enjoyed before the measure was put into effect.

For example, take the case of an article formerly dutiable under the general tariff at thirty per cent. The advantage of the British manufacturer was as follows:

Foreign article paid....20%
British article paid....20%

Advantage of British over foreign article....10%
The new regulations alter the situation as follows:

Foreign article now pays....27 1/2%
British article now pays....25%

Advantage of British over foreign article now....12 1/2%

Our three tariffs—British Preference, Intermediate and General Tariff—are relative, and if the model is maintained when a general increase is made, it is obvious that those enjoying the lowest tariff receive an advantage over those affected by the higher tariff.

Concern for the manufacturers of the United Kingdom is not the chief motive actuating those who oppose the tariff measure. They see an opportunity to strike another blow against the policy of Protection, which they hope will be a popular blow, because the economic aspect of the case is perked up in the military fervor of the moment.

APPROVES "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Manitoba Free Press Favours Giving Preference to Canadian Goods

A few weeks ago the Manitoba "Free Press" had an editorial commenting on an article that appeared in "Industrial Canada," the official organ of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which attacked a well known Canadian political economist for criticizing the "Made-in-Canada" policy. After reviewing the case, the "Free Press" said:

"As for the 'Made-in-Canada' movement, no objection need be taken to it, provided it is kept within reasonable bounds. The propriety of giving our own manufacturers the preference, other things being equal, need not be disputed, and it is well that the people of Canada should be continually reminded of the desirability of buying home-made goods owing to the natural tendency of most men to believe that the imported article must necessarily be the best. For the 'Made-in-Canada' agitation as a shield for incompetent rapacity and selfishness there can be only contempt."

Keep your money in Canada by purchasing goods "Made-in-Canada"

Only a Restatement of the Original National Policy

The "Vancouver Sun" urges that a "New National Policy" is needed in Canada. The object of this policy would be to place on our vacant arable lands a portion of the population which now finds it difficult to make a living in the city. There is no doubt that there is room for scores of farmers on the available agricultural lands in this country. It is also true that the problem of seasonal unemployment could be solved to some extent by the successful transfer of city dwellers to the country. It is scarcely accurate, however, to call such a movement a "New National Policy." The National Policy, in the economic sense of the term, aimed at securing a perfect balance between the city and country. The city was to manufacture what the country needed and the country was to produce what the city needed. It is of little use transferring the great numbers of city dwellers to farm lands unless they are certain of a market for the articles they can produce. Industrial cities are the best markets for farm produce. The National Policy never contemplated stripping country districts in order to swell city districts, because a large rural population is needed to absorb the surplus. It will be desirable for many years to encourage settlement on our vacant agricultural lands, but it would be unwise to call that a "New National Policy." It is only a continuation of the National Policy that to herald it as a "New National Policy."

EFFECTIVE DEFENCE OF "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Advertising Journal Takes issue With Win "Made-in-Canada," But is Successfully Answered

"Economic Advertising," a journal published in Toronto for circulation among advertising men, in its May issue has an editorial condemning the "Made-in-Canada" movement—first, because of "its selfishness and second, because when analyzed 'it is not good business.'" A well known periodical publisher in Toronto, who has championed the "Made-in-Canada" movement from the start, takes issue with the editorial in the following letter, which he has addressed to the editor of the paper in question:

Wherein is the sin? "Let us consider the facts: What good business man do you know who is not selfish—at least selfish in an enlightened sense, which after all is the greater selfishness? To some it has appeared that this whole 'Made-in-Canada' movement is but mere sentiment and that it is presented for selfish and personal reasons. Certain Purists have asserted vigorously the present 'Made-in-Canada' campaign is selfish, and that Canadian manufacturers are taking advantage of conditions to advance their own interests. You intimate this strongly in your editorial. I say let us admit that it is selfish in the sense that each individual manufacturer in Canada is trying to keep himself in the business game during these trying times! Wherein is the sin in that? Is it not good business that the Canadian manufacturer should further his own interests, give his laborers employment, and make the money with which to pay them and pay him—much of which must ultimately drift around in our streets and make good business for all? Why should I along help make better business for everybody in the community? Would I not rather have Canadian manufacturers do this than attempt to please the said Purists by spending time on our knees praying for the success of our armies in the field without turning a hair to make 'gold on bullion' with which to buy the supplies for our defenses? The business man who is honestly selfish is an asset to the country; it is the multitude of honorably selfish units that make the economic nation."

Price and Quality
"Your second objection: 'It is not good business.'—Certainly it is not good business unless the quality and the price is right and the goods are such as the people ask for. Granted this much, is it bad business to give preference to these 'Good Goods, Made-in-Canada' as against imported goods, which may be shoddy into this country? I hold no brief for any Canadian manufacturer who may be making poor quality goods which cannot compete with the open market, and who will take cover under 'Made-in-Canada' cry, just as a poor relation might do, in trying to sell you his inferior goods. I am, however, extending a reasonable preference to Good Goods that are made in Canada, and overcoming as far as possible that old-time innate prejudice which seems to be an instinct in human beings everywhere against goods of home manufacture."

I back this with my own time and with our firm's resources, and gladly devote considerable valuable space to this cause in our great home magazine. Frankly I take issue with you when you publish an editorial condemning whole sale the 'Made-in-Canada' movement and stating 'the 'Made-in-Canada' slogan has almost deteriorated into a 'hoax.' I believe that you will agree with me that there is a greater need this thing of real and very pronounced value in connection with this patriotic movement. I should welcome the privilege of proving this to you by means of several thousand letters which we have received from our readers demonstrating great and decided value in this movement as furthering the interests of Good Goods that are Made-in-Canada. Perhaps you may care to illustrate how one Canadian manufacturer is taking advantage of the illustration in his advertisement of underwear and hosiery. I enclose a couple of specimens in this series, which point the way very clearly as to how Canadian manufacturers can well take up this movement to their decided advantage."

It's as much the duty and to the advantage of every Canadian to do good made in Canada as for a Canadian to fight for his own country instead of going over to the enemy. The man that has a 'Made-in-Canada' policy should have made-in-Canada
